Plot The results are too big to be handled by the python graphics library, which is why I only plot those my computer can manage to graph:

The entire dataset calculated is on the file values and is a csv, delimited by '|'.

Biggest Lucas Number founded

Actually is too big to put it here, the size of the file that contains it is almost 5M, it is called biggest, and the number was founded at iteration 19800000¹.
